

Weekly Report:

This week I get familiar on how to use the e-resources of library through visiting the web of library and reading some tutorials.

I have searched for some materials about queueing theory and found some useful materials on it including an e-book whose name is “an Introduction to queueing theory” wrote by Robert B. Cooper.